

Data Protection

The protection of your data is important to prevent you becoming a victim of crime and to allow you to remain private.

Your data will not be sold or shared to any other organisation. If it is required for us to share your information to authorities, our insurance provider etc. then you will be informed.

Information relating to your personal health and physical abilities will be shared to all of the instructors and activity assistants that are working with you, this is to ensure that they are aware of your abilities, can alter their plans to enable you to participate and to help you in the event of an emergency or accident.

Information will be stored electronically, will be password protected and will be deleted after the activity and after any time periods that our insurance company state that we should be keeping it for.

We will only collect information that is relevant and that is needed for us to carry out the work.
